

POSTDOCTORAL TRAINING OPPORTUNITY: Interdisciplinary Postdoctoral Research and Training Fellowship in the Educational Sciences (IPoRT Fellowships)

The Graduate Center, City University of New York (Graduate Center) anticipates the availability of a two-year postdoctoral research positions through the Interdisciplinary Postdoctoral Research and Training Fellowship in the Educational Sciences (IPoRT) program, which is funded by a grant from the Institute of Education Sciences (IES), U.S. Department of Education. Fellows will be appointed in the Educational Psychology Program at the Graduate Center and have research affiliations with the Consortium for Research and Evaluation of Advanced Technologies in Education (CREATE) at New York University.

IPoRT fellows will become involved in research that applies state-of-the-art knowledge from cognitive science, developmental psychology and the science of learning to understand students' learning and educational experiences, and to develop and rigorously evaluate new educational products and approaches. Although a background in technology is not required, the fellowships will have a focus on the use of technology for developing educational tools, and using technology as a tool for conducting educational research. Fellows will develop an individualized training program and have to opportunity to publish with faculty mentors (listed below) from the Graduate Center and New York University.

The fellowships have a remuneration of $50,000 per year plus benefits and support for professional travel. Review of applications will begin on March 9, 2009 and continue until the position is filled. Anticipated starting date is August 1, 2009 (negotiable). If interested, please send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, up to two representative publications (or manuscripts in progress), and the names and contact information for 3 referees to Dr. Bruce Homer (Training Director) at bhomer@gc.cuny.edu. For more information, contact Dr. Homer by email or by phone (212) 817-8292. Please note, that due to Department of Education requirements, only U.S. citizens or permanent residences are eligible for this fellowship.
