

CUNY LINGUISTICS

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES

Using IT in the Classroom:
a workshop/discussion for instructors and future instructors

Eva Fernández (CUNY) with Bill McClure (CUNY) and guest panelists

In addition to being a proficient user of chalk and dry-erase markers, today's academic must be familiar with other slightly more sophisticated tools belonging to the category of "instructional technology". Just what makes a technology suitable for use in teaching/learning contexts? Why should one even bother teaching with technology? And does it make a difference?

Wine and cheese served.

- ❖ Thursday, February 23, 2006
- ❖ 4:15 to 6:00 p.m.
- ❖ Room 6417 (6th Floor)

CUNY Graduate Center
365 Fifth Avenue (between 34th & 35th Streets)

ALL ARE WELCOME!