

Jeremiah Johnson graduated from Geneva College in 2000 with a B.A. in Sociology. After a brief stint at Pace Law School, he was admitted to Western Connecticut State University where he earned his M.S. in Justice Administration in 2008.

Jeremiah has been employed by the Darien Police Department (CT) since 2002. He attended the Connecticut P.O.S.T.C Police Academy where he graduated 6th in his class. During his law enforcement career he has worked as a patrol officer, field training officer, and accreditation manager. On September 11th, 2009, Jeremiah was promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is currently assigned as a supervisor in the Patrol Division.

His research interests include police professionalization, police misconduct / use of force, and criminal justice policy. Jeremiah resides in Connecticut with his wife and two children.