

Mexican-Origin Population of the U.S. in Percentages of Total Mexican-Origin Population, by State, Census 2000
 (largest concentrations)

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, Census 2000, Summary File 1 and unpublished data.

Note: 55% of the New Mexican Hispanic population (421,890 people) were classified as 'other' Hispanic. It is likely that a large portion of these were of Mexican origin.
