CUNY Graduate Center Philosophy Colloquia, Spring 2022

Each colloquium (unless noted below or circumstances change) will be IN PERSON
4:15 P.M. to 6:15 P.M, room TBD

2.16 Shelbi Nahwilet Meissner (Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Georgetown University)
“Nótma pí 'ahíichumay tamáawumal//My mouth is a lonely little mockingbird': Indigenous Feminist Reclamation & Transformative Justice"
Co-Sponsored by CUNY GC Minorities and Philosophy
NOTE: this will be a virtual colloquium. A Zoom link will be distributed later.

3.2 David Papineau (Professor of Philosophy of Science, Kings College London)
“Knowledge Norms are Bad for You”

3.9 José Medina (Walter Dill Scott Professor of Philosophy, Northwestern University)
“Protest, Silencing, and Epistemic Activism”
Marx Wartofsky Memorial Lecture

3.16 Sylvia de Toffoli (Postdoctoral fellow, Princeton University)
“Successful Transmission of Justification Across Fallacious Arguments”
Jerrold Katz Memorial Lecture

3.23 Jake Quilty-Dunn (Assistant Professor of Philosophy and Philosophy-Neuroscience-Psychology, Washington University in St. Louis)
“Unconscious Rationalization, or: How (Not) to Think about Awfulness and Death”
Alumni Day

3.30 Alexis Wellwood (Associate Professor of Philosophy and Linguistics, University of Southern California)
“Abstraction and Quantification”

4.6 Derrick Darby (Henry Rutgers Professor of Philosophy)
TBD

4.13 Elizabeth Schechter (Associate Professor of Philosophy and Cognitive Science, Indiana University, Bloomington)
TBD

4.27 Matthew Lindauer (Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Brooklyn College and the Graduate Center, CUNY)
“Fruitfulness for Normative Concepts”

5.4 Emmalon Davis (Assistant Professor of Philosophy, University of Michigan)
TBD